Application for a permanent residence card

Use this form to apply for a permanent residence card if you are not an EU/EEA citizen but you are a family member of an EU/EEA citizen. In order to obtain a permanent residence card, you must have lived in Sweden continuously for at least five years together with an EU/EEA citizen who has had the right of residence for the entire period. The same terms apply for your children. Submit one form per person.

There is no cost to apply for a permanent residence card.

Help us shorten the waiting times by filling in the form on the computer or applying via the e-service. Clear and correct information reduces the risk of us having to ask you for additional information. It makes it easier for both you and the Swedish Migration Agency. Always attach copies of

- the pages in your passport which show personal information, the period of validity, issuing country and signature
- your family member's passport or national identity card.

If the application concerns a child under the age of 18 years, you can attach a separate sheet of paper with the child's views.

6.1 Documents supporting your family member's right of residence

If your family member, who is an EU/EEA citizen, has received a certificate of permanent right of residence, you do not need to attach documents showing how the family member has met the requirements for the right of residence. If your family member has not received such a certificate, you must show how they have fulfilled the requirements for right of residence during the five years you have resided here. Which documents you must attach depend on the basis on which the family member had the right of residence. If you and your family member are applying at the same time, it is sufficient for one of you to submit the documents with your application.

6.1.1 If your family member has been working or has been unemployed

Submit copies of

- income information from the Swedish Tax Agency for the past five years
- employer certificates from all employers for the last five years
- employment contract for the jobs your family member has had over the past five years
- the most recent payslip.

If your family member has been unemployed for any period in the past five years, you must also attach

- an employer certificate from the employer your family member had before becoming unemployed. The certificate must state how long the employment lasted and why it was terminated
- documents showing the dates for which your family member has been registered as a jobseeker with the Swedish Public Employment Service.

6.1.2 If your family member has been self-employed

Submit statements from the company's tax account with the Swedish Tax Agency for the last five years.

6.1.3 If your family member has been studying in Sweden

Submit transcripts for the periods during which your family member has studied here with right of residence as a student.

6.1.4 If your family member is retired or has sufficient funds to support themselves

Use the Other information section to describe the manner in which your family member has supported you during your time in Sweden. Attach copies of documents that support your description, such as copies of

- pension payments
- bank statements
- tax data for salary/wages from abroad
- other documents showing how your family member has supported you.

Submit information about your accommodation and what housing costs you have in Sweden. It can be a rental contract stating the rental cost or a proof of purchase of a tenant-owner's flat or property. If you own your home, you need to report the monthly costs associated with the property.

If another person has been responsible for your financial maintenance in Sweden, you need to submit

- a copy of the ID card of the person who is supporting you financially
- a letter in which the person who is supporting you certifies that they have been responsible for your financial maintenance, and which also states your relationship
- documents proving that they have supported you financially, such as bank account statements.

If your family member has been supporting themselves financially based on salary/wages or other compensation from abroad, you must also submit

- employment contracts for the jobs your family member has had abroad
- documents showing that your family member has commuted to and from abroad (the documents must state the cost of the commute)
- transcripts or grades for the periods during which your family member has studied at least at upper secondary school level abroad
- certificates regarding any allowances, grants, or other income from abroad.

6.2 If the relationship to your family member has ended

Specify the period of time your relationship lasted

From (YYYY-MM-DD) – until (YYYY-MM-DD)

If your relationship with the EU/EEA citizen has ended, you may, under certain conditions, still be entitled to right of residence in Sweden. To keep your right of residence, it is required that your former partner had a type of right of residence that you can keep. Use the Other information section to describe how your family member met the requirements for the right of residence during the time you were in a relationship. Attach copies of documents that support your description, see above under each category.

Also submit documents showing that you have retained your right of residence.

For example, this could be a divorce application, as well as a divorce ruling and documents showing that you and your ex-partner were cohabiting. You also need to submit documents showing that you are an employee, self-employed, or have sufficient assets of your own after the relationship has ended. For more information about maintaining the right of residence after the relationship has ended, see www.migrationsverket.se.
