You can use this form to apply for an emergency alien's passport if you need to travel to or from Sweden immediately. If you do not have any documents that will serve as a passport and do not have possibility of obtaining one, the Swedish Migration Agency can issue an emergency alien's passport in certain cases. This applies, for example, if you have been given a residence permit in Sweden on the grounds of protection against authorities in your home country and therefore cannot contact them to obtain a passport. The Migration Agency can issue an emergency alien's passport for a single journey. An emergency alien's passport is normally valid for a maximum of seven months.

Guardians can also use this form to apply for an emergency alien's passport on behalf of a child that is under 18. Normally, one or both the child's parents are the guardians but a trustee or specially appointed custodian can also be a guardian. As the guardian, you fill in and sign the application. You must also send the form "Consent for the Swedish Migration Agency to issue an alien's passport for a child under the age of 18" (form 247011).

Please note that you must submit your application in person, filled in, at one of the Migration Agency offices or at a Swedish mission abroad. Remember that everybody applying for an emergency alien's passport must come to the office, including children.

If you want to apply for a normal alien's passport, you should fill in form 191011. For more information, please go to www.migrationsverket.se
